Bath & Body Care

PRODUCT CATALOG

People have been bathing with our holistic products for over 100 years

For over 100 years, we have been dedicated to holistic well-being through innovative products. The foundation for this vision was laid by Richard Carl Pittlik in Dresden, Germany in 1910, when he founded Deutsche Arzneimittelwerke Li-iL to produce efficacy-tested medicinal baths with natural active ingredients - a genuine product revolution at the time.

The name Li-iL is composed of the abbreviation for lithium, a carrier substance for essential oils, an ilatum a principal of action of substances absorbed through the skin.

DRESDNER ESSENZ stands with passion and tradition for an innovative and holistically effective product range, produced on the basis of the latest psychological and medical research.

We have always remained true to the vision of Richard Carl Pittlik and trust to this day in the effectiveness of herbal extracts and carefully selected natural ingredients

Harmony doesn't need much, just the very best

In an increasingly fast-paced world that's full of deadlines and expectations, the most valuable asset to consider is time spent with ourselves – moments when we can reset, reconnect and gain new insight into our lives. Even though we understand we need these moments of peace and harmony for our health and well-being, it isn't always easy to take time away from our busy lives to unwind.

At DRESDNER ESSENZ, we want to help you relax and unwind so you can once again enjoy these special moments. That's why we rely on the healing properties of select plants, the aromatherapy of essential oils and the restorative power of precious essential fragrances. We blend these elements into our products for a unique combination of care, relaxation and inspiration. Our philosophy is backed by psychological findings that confirm how healing and wellness products are most effective in offering benefits for our body and spirit when used holistically. These findings, along with our philosophy, unique passion and industry expertise have led us to craft truly exceptional products for over 100 years and become one of Germany's most successful traditional brands.

Take a bath in Nature

Quality raw materials and skin tolerability are paramount when it comes to manufacturing our entire range of products. The combination of deeply soothing fragrances and effective medicinal herb extracts turn daily care into a more relaxing and rejuvenating experience for our customers.

We are committed to well-being and, with our high-quality cosmetic products, our mission is to promote the health of our customers. We're convinced that proper well-being effectively prevents illness. Our bath and body products are primarily formulated with natural and plant ingredients, and they support the body's natural healing abilities while helping to restore a healthy balance to the body.

Our Dirty Birdie® products go one step further. All products in this line are vegan and natural certified cosmetics, in accordance with the strict standards of NATRUE.

That's why we use the following Quality Criteria as a basis for the development of our products:

Careful selection of raw materials

We use natural essential oils and high-quality raw, plant-based ingredients. We also develop and adjust our products based on the latest green formulations. We process mild-cleaning sugar surfactants, precious plant oils and skin-friendly care ingredients.

High quality standards

All raw ingredients and packaging used are carefully tested before further processing. We regularly perform investigations in our lab in order to continuously guarantee the high level of quality you expect from Dresdner Essenz.

No animal testing

We do not test our products on animals. EU legislation bans any animal testing with cosmetic products

Vegan products

Our vegan product lines are entirely free of animal products and instead include raw, plant-based materials. No raw materials originating from animals are used, and our goal is to make our entire range of products vegan.

That's why we use the following Quality Criteria as a basis for the development of our products:

Sustainability

We carefully consider the use of recycled materials and the recyclability of our packaging. On our mission toward sustainability, we strive to gradually switch to renewable raw and environmentally-friendly materials

Microplastic-free formulations

Sustainability and careful raw materials have always played an essential role in our company philosophy. According to the generally accepted definition of microplastics, the formulations of the Dresdner Essenz products microplastic-free, i.e. they contain no solid plastic particles that are smaller than 0.2 inches in diameter.

FEEL NATURALLY HEALTHY

NATURE'S best.

This is how Healthy Bathing can be

Feeling healthy, happy, and having peace of mind are ways in which our body tells us it feels well. That's why the products and active ingredients you use to care for it are particularly important.

Our FEEL NATURALLY HEALTHY products always offer holistic care. They help to relax, strengthen the immune system, loosen muscles and improve circulation, provide relief when feeling under the weather and promote well-being.

Since our founding, we have trusted in the power of nature. With our natural bath additives, body lotions and body oils, we continue this tradition with carefully selected ingredients like natural sea salt, essential oils and nurturing plant oils. We only use ingredients whose gentle, natural effects help in feeling rejuvenated and healthy all around.

So, when it comes to providing high-quality, natural and vegan bath and body products at an affordable price, Dresdner Essenz ist the choice for your customers!

Created in tradition: Our Bath Salts

We rely on the power of nature. FEEL NATURALLY HEALTHY bath salts are formulated with natural sea salt which contains precious trace minerals. Our pure, plant-based blends of essential oils are used, and panthenol and wheat protein protect your skin against drying out, while intensive lipids provide replenishing skin care properties. The bath color extracts are subtle and promote a sense of well-being while bathing.

Our products are free of Parabens, Sodium Laureth Sulfate (SLES), mineral and silicone oils.

No micropastics (according to formulation)

Our DETOX bath salt features alkaline minerals, sea salt, green tea and seaweed extract to gently clean your skin and is especially soothing after exercise and physical exertion. The alkaline pH neutralizes the acids on your skin to promote cleansing and stimulate your skin's ability to regulate itself.

~~dirty~~ birdie

For children and the young at heart

Our DIRTY BIRDIE product line features bath products specifically developed for kids that are colorful, smell great and foam gently. They are also naturally healthy for children's skin and transform bath time into a fun, enjoyable experience for your child's wellbeing.

For ages 3 and up.

Dirty Birdie products:

- are Natural Cosmetics, NATRUE certified
- are 100% vegan
- contain mild sugar surfactants to gently cleanse children's delicate skin
- are instilled with a fragrant blend based on natural essential oils
- are enriched with sesame oil and wheat protein to pamper children's sensitive skin

Vibrant colors and lots of bubbles guarantee excitement and fun, and our enticing fragrances not only smell great, but they also provide aromatherapy.

Small children absorb a large number of substances through their skin, so it is important to pay close attention to what comes into contact with it.

In addition to sensory perception, our skin can do much more: it regulates our body temperature and protects us against intruders from the surrounding environment like germs and pathogens, while also playing a key role in our metabolism. Providing the skin with loving care is all the more important from the very beginning.

The right care is a question of balance

Wellness implies doing something good for ourselves, taking time away from everyday stress and keeping our body and spirit in balance. Because of this notion, we have continued to develop our WELLNESS line of products.

While some call it a bathroom, we call it a wellness oasis. Thanks to our wellness products, you can rejuvenate your senses and body in the comfort of your own home – perfectly attuned to your mood and favorite fragrances.

Whether it's soothing bath salts or body lotions, our focus has always been on natural care, and our assortment of high-quality Wellness products are based predominantly on green formulations, essential oils and precious plant-based active ingredients and care substances. Sophisticated, rejuvenating and innovative fragrances contribute to a unique sensory experience with their one-of-a-kind nuances. Colors in the water, which are carefully attuned to the fragrance themes, ensure that your bathing experience is engaging on every level. Our products indulge you with an enjoyable and holistic experience for your body and soul through care you can feel: moisturizing, toning, regenerating, caring for your skin, calming or revitalizing.
